WU PEI-FU IN TIENTSIN; WILL FIGHT ON

Soviet Terms Communist Letter Forgery; Demands Apology

ZINOVIEFF REPUDIATES APPEAL FOR RED REVOLT

Letter Is Branded As False By Alleged Author

LABOR'S DEFENSE

Communique Hits At Disclosures Of Opponents

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 26.—M. Zinovieff has sent a message to the Trades Union Congress declaring that the letter alleged to be signed by him is a gross falsification. There was not and could not be such a letter, he asserts. The falsification was so crude, he continues, that not even too literate an official of the British Foreign Office could fail to see the falsity of it. It seems, says M. Zinovieff, that Secretary Hughes's laurels are envied by someone in England. He denounces it as clearly an election manoeuvre, and, in conclusion, invites the Trades Union Congress to appoint a commission to visit Russia to investigate its authenticity.

REPLY OF SOVIET
(Reuter's Service)

London, October 27.—M. Rakovsky, the Soviet Charge d'Affaires in Great Britain, today transmitted to the Foreign Office the Soviet reply to the British Note on the subject of the Zinovieff letter.

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, Oct. 26.—A Soviet Note in reply to the British Note opens by adhering to its repeated declarations regarding the non-responsibility of the Soviet Government for the acts of the Communist International.

It says that the Soviet at present abstains from touching upon the form and tone of the British Foreign Office Note but hastens to declare that the alleged Zinovieff letter is an impudent forgery aiming at the destruction of the Anglo-Soviet Treaty and the ruin of friendly Anglo-Soviet relations, which happily were beginning to improve.

The reply continues: "In view of the use of forgery in an official document, the Soviet Government insists upon an adequate apology and the pubishment of both private and official persons."

It concludes by saying that,

LOOTING OF KIANGSU MEN SUBJECT OF PROTEST HERE

Chamber Urges Chi To Discipline His Soldiers

FUNDS FOR CHANG

$75,000 Sent To Hupeh General To Enable His Departure

The excessive looting and other misconduct of Kiangsu troops in the vicinity of Shanghai formed the subject of a protest filed with Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan yesterday by the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce. A translation of the message follows:

"Since the cessation of hostilities, the refugees in Shanghai continue to return to their homes. However, disorderly soldiers are looting their bags and baggages on the way while other troops strip their homes repeatedly of all their belongings. The sufferers are dumb with distress and fail to resist for fear of disastrous consequences. How can they tolerate such oppression any more especially after the horrors they experienced during the war? Reports of misconduct of the troops are pouring into our office, so we are reluctantly compelled to bring the matter before you with the hope that you, out of sympathy for the distressed and stricken, will communicate with the responsible commanders and take strict disciplinary measures against those who have committed the crimes."

It was definitely learned yesterday that the sum of $75,000 was sent to Shanghai from General Hsiao Yao-nan of Hupeh to enable the Hupeh brigade commander at Shanghai, Chang Yung-ming, to return to Central China with his troops and leave the Lunghua Arsenal to the control of Kiangsu. Although Marshal Wu Pei-fu had ordered Chang to proceed to North China to fight Chang Tso-lin, the coup d'etat in Peking had changed the mind of the general and indications pointed to his remaining here for some little time to watch for developments in Peking. But the remittance from Wuchang is expected to clear the situation once for all and the restoration of Shanghai to Kiangsu is expected to be completed this week. Steamers have been arranged for Chang's departure in three days.

Although through service has been re-established along the Shanghai-Nanking railway, the train only run at irregular hours. Interference of military trains is evident everywhere, most of the trains have to wait for long hours at stations garrisoned by troops.

Troops movements continue to occupy the railways. The fourth brigade of Kiangsu forces stationed at Lootien and Hsuchiahang under Wu Hung-tsan were despatched to Nanking yesterday morning by train. The fifth mixed brigade under General Chen Tiao-yuan at Chengju began its migration northward yesterday. Chen is returning to his post at Hsuchowfu. Four trains were sent up, using 150 coaches.

The forces of Sze Ching-yu left yesterday for Anhui by the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway. One hundred coaches were placed at his disposal.

WU CONFIDENT OF ABILITY TO WIN OUT STILL

Chihli Positions Holding Despite Coup At Peking

BY LAWRENCE IMPEY
Special Correspondent, THE CHINA PRESS, attached to General Wu Pei-fu's Headquarters

Changli, Chihli Province (north of Tientsin on Peking-Mukden railway), September 26.—General Wu Pei-fu in a personal interview with THE CHINA PRESS correspondent here this afternoon expressed confidence in his ability to handle the stuation which has developed with the seizure of Peking by General Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian General.

Having full authority from the President to take all necessary action, General Wu pointed out that approximately a hundred thousand troops are now stationed on the front facing the forces of General Chang Tso-lin and that these troops are ample for maintaining the defense and thus permitting him to return to Peking with a punitive force. The writer who personally inspected the entire front before leaving Shanhaikwan concurs in this view since the position from Shimenchai to Shanhaikwan is very strong and Generals Peng Tsou-hsin and Chang Fu-lai are reputed to be loyal and confident of holding out [illegible] Wu departs for the capital to personally

PREPARES TO LEAD FORCE OF 100,000 ON CAPITAL

Still Holds Railway Line As Far As Lofa

DENOUNCES FENG

Christian General Is Traitor, Ingrate, He Says

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Oct. 27.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu arrived at Tientsin yesterday and established temporary headquarters in the City. He issued a message to the Diplomatic Corps denouncing Feng Yu-hsiang as a traitor and an ingrate, asserting that President Tsao Kun has specially instructed him to take steps to cope with the situation. Therefore he is assembling an army of a hundred thousand men in order to eliminate General Feng and restore the situation.

Marshal Wu holds the railway to Peking as far as Lofa, and states that the Kiangsu and Shantung forces are coming up by the Pukow-Tientsin Railway, and the Hupehites by the Hankow-Peking Railway.

The Shanhaikwan front has been entrusted to Generals Feng Shou-hsin and Chang Fu-lai, who will adopt a defensive attitude, and are holding out well at the present time.

Peking, Oct. 27.—Feng Yu-hsiang has wired to Chang Tso-lin, offering to make Luanchow the boundary between the National Army and the Mukden Army. The region south of Luanchow will be garrisoned by the troops of Hu Ching-yi.

Marshal Tuan Chi-jui and General Feng Yu-hsiang have wired to Tuli Tseng Shih-chi of Shantung, urging him to stop the retreating army of Wu Pei-fu from tao, or Haichow, Kiangsu.

The 20th brigade under Wu Chang-chi and the 4th brigade under Hu Yi-ju have moved to Tientsin and Langfang to join hands with Feng Yu-hsiang to fight against Wu Pei-fu.

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Tientsin, Oct. 27.—Marshal Tuan Chi-jui has wired to Governor Li Chi-chen of Honan to watch the tide of times and help the worthy cause by suppressing the rebels. It is understood that Li has consented to be loyal to him.

Wang Yi-tang of the Anfu clique, Chiang Shih-chao of the Tsenghsueh clique and Chang Kuo-kan of the Yenchui clique have been invited by Marshal Tuan to assist in the scheme of reconstruction.

JAPANESE NEUTRALITY

Tokio, Oct. 27.—Interviewed today by press representatives, Premier Kato, referring to the Chinese question, said:

"Disturbances in China apparently have been brought to an end by the entry into Peking of General Feng Yu-hsiang. It has always been my belief that if Marshal Wu Pei-fu should come out victorious and enter Manchuria, lives and property of Japanese residents there would never be subjected to danger whatever.

"There is every reason to believe that neither Great Britain nor the United States of America has interfered in the recent Chinese internal affairs, they, from the beginning to the end, having strictly maintained absolute non-interference policy. Among the Japanese people, there seem to be some who are friendly

"LITTLE HSU" GETS FREEDOM IN HONGKONG

Anfu Cenral Says Governor Has Invited Him To Land In Colony

General Hsu Shu-tseng, popularly known as Little Hsu, has landed in Honkong and is now a guest of Ex-governor Li Yao-hai of Kwangtung, according to a telegram he sent to his friends in Shanghai on Sunday.

Immediately upon the receipt of the telegram, friends of the Anfu general met and sent him a wire asking him not to proceed to London or Berlin as planned and to remain in the Crown Colony, pending further developments in Peking, it is understood.

A translation of the telegram received from Hsu which was addressed to his secretary Kwei Mei-lin, follows:

"I arrived in Hongkong safely yesterday. The Governor of Hongkong sent his representative, the Chief of Police, to call on me on board the ship and send greetings. He stated that a cablegram has ben received from the Home Office in London expressing its desire that I should not proceed directly to London.

"When I consented to go to Germany and France first, he undertook to make the necessary arrangements on my behalf and offered me the private launch of the governor in order that I might wait for another boat.

"This morning, he came again to convey the wishes of the governor. He wanted me to get ashore and live here temporarily. I told him that the Consular Body at Shanghai does not like to have me land here and that I had undertaken not to, so I had not any wish to land. He answered that the Shanghai Consuls would not interfere with the affairs of Hongkong and that the whole matter rested with myself. Therefore I have now removed myself to the home of Tse-yung (Ex-Governor of Kwangtung, Li Yao-hai).

"The various interests in Hongkong, both foreign and Chinese, do not approve the action taken by the Consular Body at Shanghai. The British especially regret the incident. The Chief of Police told me that the Governor was very much embarrassed in handling the situation."

The remainder of the message concerns General Hsu's private matters.

NEW LOAN WILL BE FLOATED BY FRANCE IN U. S.

Contract Signed With Morgan For Issue Of Three Billion Francs

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 26.—According to L'Oeuvre, the Minister of Finance has signed a contract with the American bankers, Messrs. J. P. Morgan and Company, for a loan of 3,000,000,000 francs to France. It is stated that a proportion of the proceeds will be devoted to the liquidation of advances by the Banque de France, and that the loan will be issued in two instalments, the first of which will be marketed in America early in November. Hitherto no logical confirmation is available.

Ex-Premier Tang Shao-yi Sees No Immediate Cure For National Troubles

Considers Time Yet Distant For Settlement And Criticises Both Tuan Chi-jui And Feng Yu-hsiang

"The time is yet far distant when the political situation in China can be cleared up," said Mr. Tang Shao-yi, former Premier and veteran statesman whose advice is being sought by all political cliques, as he was interviewed by a representative of THE CHINA PRESS yesterday. "Although opportunists have for the time being turned their tail, I wonder how many of them are really and conscientiously supporting Feng Yu-hsiang. Flopping to another party on account of a change in the situation and loyal support and sacrifice are entirely two different things, you know."

Mr. Tang did not consider the coup d'etat of Feng Yu-hsiang as a masterly stroke at all. On the other hand, he felt that the Christian general has lacked foresight and decision. To ask or to force Tsao Kun to resign was not good enough for the country. In the opinion of Mr. Tang, Tsao Kun should not only be deprived of all his rank but also be kept from doing any further harm to the nation.

Furthermore, Parliament, which was the real culprit in stealing and selling the presidency to Tsao Kun, should be dissolved. It was injustice to punish the purchaser of stolen property and allow the thief to go free, he said.

"But I believe Feng realises his own shortcomings. That is why he is inviting Tuan Chi-jui to Peking," suggested your correspondent.

"Feng has made no statements on his plan," replied Mr. Tang. "He must make himself quite clear as to what he wishes to do, and let the nation judge his proposal. Tuan should also define his own policy before returning to Peking. He should first ask for forgiveness of his sins. It is difficult for us to forget what he did when he was in power. We cannot forgive him for dragging us into the war. We cannot forgive him for the loans he secured from Japan. The Nishihara loan, the Northwestern Defence Loan and other loans would amount to $1,000,000,000 by the time when they are redeemed, increasing the burden of the people by $2.50 per capita. You remember during the internal peace conference held in Shanghai, I asked for the publication of the loans, which were secretly secured from Japan. But he refused.

TUAN IS SUSPICIOUS

"Therefore we still have our suspicion about Tuan; and until he himself makes an open statement on his political plans, our suspicion cannot be dispelled. I don't want to put any obstacles in his way, but I do believe that he should define his position and refrain from going to Peking until sometime after the issuance of a manifesto, say a week. Because by that time, the nation could judge him better and give him the backing which he needs at present."

"But what the people are essentially interested at present is the work of reconstruction; and you as one of the foremost leaders of the nation are looked upon as a possible factor in settling the situation up north. Have you received any invitation to go up?" asked the correspondent.

"No," answered Mr. Tang, "nor do I care to go. I can't work with hypocrites and intriguers! Peking is no place for the solu-

ARMED ROBBERS MAKE WEEK-END RAIDS ON HOMES

Money, Clothing And Jewellery Worth Over $3,000 Are Lost By Victims

Four armed robberies, the loot in which totalled in excess of $3,000, appear on the records of the Settlement police over the week-end. The methods employed by the robbers in each instance are greatly similar, and former soldiers are suspected as being responsible in at least two of the raids.

Shortly before 7 o'clock Saturday night, robbers appeared at the home of Waung Siau-daung, 936 E. Hanbury Road. One of them knocked at the door and inquired for the doctor. As a woman servant answered, six men, four of whom were armed with pistols, pushed their way past her. One of the bandits guarded the front door, and another the back door. Then they began ransacking the house.

Dr. and Mrs. Waung were in an upstairs room at the time. One of the bandits entered with cocked pistol and requested a loan. Dr. Waung pleaded that he had no money in the house, and the bandit began ransacking boxes and cupboards but failed to find anything of value. Just as he was about to give up, another bandit appeared and reported that he had discovered a safe downstairs. Mrs. Waung was then forced to go downstairs and open the safe. The robbers, after taking the contents of the safe, money and jewellery to the value of $1,500, drove all of the inmates of the house to the upper floor and escaped.

A report of an armed robbery at 12 and 13 Shanhaikwan Road was received at Sinza Police station at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Six men four of whom were armed with pistols entered the place. On the lower floor were eleven men and women, and thirteen men and women occupied the upper floor. All were intimated by the display of arms and made no resistance to search by the bandits, who obtained

Yangtsze Provinces Will Stand Together Against Feng, Says Marshal Chi

BY D. J. LEWIS

Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan received a telegram yesterday afternoon from General Wu Pei-fu stating that General Wu had arrived in Tientsin safely from Chinwangtao on Sunday and that he had the situation well in hand.

This information was given to THE CHINA PRESS representative last night by the Nanking Tuchun and there was no question of his relief at having received word from his superior after the stirring events of the last few days.

According to the telegram which General Chi received from General Wu at Tientsin, General Feng's main body of troops are stationed at Nanyuan, the military barracks and encampment a few miles north of the Peking city walls. General Wu stated that he had returned to Tientsin to organise a rescue expedition for the President of China who is being held a prisoner by the Christian General. Wu claims to have 60,000 troops in the Tientsin area now practically ready for the advance on the Capital

WILL STICK TOGETHER

General Chi was most emphatic in his statement that the Yangtsze Provinces will stick together and loyally prosecute the new fight against the "disloyal" General Feng Yu-hsiang. In Marshal Chi's opinion, the affairs in the North will turn out favorably to the Chihli Party and it will not require very much time to take care of the new situation brought about by General Feng's disloyalty to General Wu Pei-fu.

General Chi Hsieh-yuan expects to depart from Chenju for Nanking on next Friday but this depends upon the departure from Shanghai of General Chang Yuen-either to Marshal Wu Pei-fu or to Marshal Chang Tso-lin, but so far as I am concerned, I have no connections with them, officially or unofficially, though it is true that Marshal Wu has, of late, showed his good-will to me, sending me from time to time letters and his photographs. I have no idea of how the situation in China will be changed in future. Needless to say, Japan is determined to maintain her absolute neutrality so long as her position is not endangered."

CANTON'S VIEWS

Canton, Oct. 26.—The coup d'etat in Peking has attracted not a little attention here. In this connection, Mr. Hu Han-min, Civil Governor of Kwangtung, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Eastern News Agency, stated that while the change in the political situation in the North would undoubtedly bring about an effect favorable to anti-Chihli factions, he was not yet in a position to foretell the prospect of the situation in view of the fact that there were objections on the part of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, Marshal Chang Tso-lin, and Dr. Sun Yat-sen to the scheme of bringing into existence a committee system with Marshal Tuan, Marshal Chang, Dr. Sun, and General Feng as the controlling figures, as voiced some time ago by General Feng Yu-hsiang.

Under these circumstances, stated Mr. Hu Han-min, some complications are inevitable before something concrete can be done by the political leaders. In conclusion, Mr. Hu further stated that the Canton Government was now devising some relief-measures especially the financial question consequent upon the dissolution of the Merchants' Volunteer Corps and added that with the foregoing in view, the Government decided to despatch its representative to Tientsin to confer with Marshal Tuan Chi-jui.

SHANSI FOR TUAN

(Eastern News Agency)

Tiintsin, Oct. 25.—General Yen Shi-shan, Tuchun of Shansi, on the 22nd instant issued a circular telegram, announcing his determination to support Marshal Tuan Chi-jui and has at the same time despatched the 3rd Mixed Brigade of his troops to Shichiaochuang, Chihli.

It is reported in well-informed Chinese circles that Shensi will act in concert with Shansi.

WU'S TROOPS IN FENGTAI

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 25, (delayed).—General Feng Yu-hsiang, following his seizure of Peking, contemplates occupying Tientsin, but owing to the presence in Fengtai and Langfang of Marshal Wu Pei-fu's troops, the Christian General is now in negotiation with the leaders of Marshal Wu's troops in question, asking them to disarm their troops.

WU INSPECTS FRONT

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 25.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu yesterday inspected the fighting fronts as usual.

Following the coup d'etat in Peking, Marshal Wu was at first determined to maintain the status quo by all means and thus to turn a new leaf in the war situation, but judging from the fact that last night, the military train in which Marshal Wu used to travel and which had hitherto been remaining at Chinwangtao suddenly left there for Tientsin, it seems likely that he has given up his original plan above mentioned and is now attempting to find an outlet for his retreat to Loyang or somewhere else.

WU PLANS ATTACK

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 26.—All the trains, which had been kept in Chinwangtao, left there yesterday. The Chihli troops, which have been transported by rail from Chinwangtao in the direction of Tientsin, are approximately one division of troops. It is stated that Marshal Wu has now under consideration a plan shortly to attack Peking with the 3rd Division, which he has sent back from the fighting fronts, acting in cooperation with other Chihli forces which have hitherto been stationed in the vicinity of Tientsin.

CHANG CONFIDENT

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, October 26.—Interviewed today by a representative of the Eastern News Agency, Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, stated as follows:

"The Peking Government will be taken over by Marshal Tuan Chi-jui and I am now making arrangements with General Feng Yu-hsiang for the purpose of supporting Marshal Tuan.

"I have now decided to cancel my former declaration of independence of the Three Eastern Provinces so that Manchuria may be placed within the sphere of influence of the Peking Government under the Presidency of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui.

"The appointment of Wu Pei-fu as Tupan of the Land Development at Kokonor as announced by Tsao Kun in his latest Presidential Mandate is nothing but a scrap of paper.

"Both Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu will not be able to escape their death unless the former resigns the present post while the latter takes to flight abroad.

"I feel convinced that it will not be long before peace and order in North China can be completely effected. Inasmuch as the Yangtsze Valley is the only part that remains outside the sphere of influence of the Peking Government, it may be safely stated that an opportunity for the unification of China as a whole is near at hand."

FORM 'NATIONAL ARMY'

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, October 25.—All the troops under the command of General Feng Yu-hsiang, General Sun Yo, and General Hu Ching-i, which have been concentrated in Peking, are to be designated as the "National Army".

It is reported that the majority of these troops are to maintain peace and order in and around Peking, while the remainder will proceed eastward in order to cut off the retreat of Marshal Wu Pei-fu's troops.

TUAN TO COMMAND

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, October 25.—It is authoritatively reported that leaders of the newly organised "National army" under the directorship of General Feng Yu-hsiang have decided shortly to make President Tsao Kun retire from his present position and to recommend Marshal Tuan Chi-jui to the post as Commander-in-Chief of the "National Army."

CHIHLI DEFEATED

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, October 25.—According to a communique issued today by the General Headquarters here, part of General Chang Tsung-Chang's troops in cooperation with the Kirin troops under the command of Brigadier-General Ting Chao on the 23rd instant defeated the 23rd Chihli Division in the vicinity of Yaolukou to the north of Kailingkou, inflicting a large number of casualties on the Chihli troops, and are now making a drive in the direction of Kailingkou.

TSAO KUN TO QUIT

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, October 25.—It is reported from a most authoritative source that President Tsao Kun has decided to quit his post and is expected to desert the Presidential Office perhaps this afternoon, proceeding to somewhere outside of Peking. The President's bodyguards have already been disarmed and Tsao Kun will hereafter be guarded by troops under the command of General Sun Yo.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 25.—Reuter learns from an authoritative source that Marshal Wu Pei-fu is this morning launching a heavy attack on the Shanhaikuan front, endeavoring to turn the Fengtien right flank. Marshal Wu is apparently determined to bring a quick and final decision there by an attuck rather than attempt to retreat. His men are evidently unaware of the recent events in Peking and their morale is described as excellent.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Oct. 25.—The magazine at Changhsintien on the Peking-Hankow Railway, about 20 miles from Peking, was today taken over by a brigade of General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops comprising 5,000 men after a skirmish with the guards.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Shankaikuan, Oct. 18.—It is reported that Japan has arranged to send 400 troops from Dairen to Chinwangtao. Surprise is expressed here at this development in view of the assurances given by Marshal Wu. It is understood that headquarters have telegraphed to the Waichiaopu asking it to make representations with a view to alteration of this plan which might cause complications.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 21.—A message dated the 17th instant says that Major-General Yoshioka, Senior Commandant at Tientsin, has telegraphed requesting removal of the Government troops from Chinwangtao pier as soon as possible, and also co-operation to ensure protection of foreign lives and property.

Marshal Wu replied accepting full responsibility for the protection of foreign lives and property, and requesting General Yoshioka to convey this assurance to his colleagues.

On account of the arrest of Lieutenant Abe, who is said to have refused to retire from the battle front when requested, General Yoshioka sent a representative to interview Marshal Wu, demanding an explanation. The Japanese military officer in headquarters is reported to have admitted that Lieutenant Abe was in the wrong. In any case the interview proved satisfactory and the incident is now believed to be closed.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Mukden, Oct. 26.—General Lu Yung-hsiang's staff officer Fan Min-mu, who has just arrived here, described the difficulties he experienced in Japan because mistaken for Little Hsu. He announced that General Lu Yung-hsiang will shortly be going to Mukden.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Mukden, Oct. 26.—Marshal Chang Tso-lin, interviewed by Japanese press representatives today, declared that the independence of the Three Eastern Provinces would shortly be annulled. He pledged his support to Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, and recommended the deportation of Marshal Wu Pei-fu.

He also announced the construction of a railway between Dunglang and Jehol.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Mukden, Oct. 25.—Marshal Chang Tso-lin announces that he has not yet determined on his visit to Peking. Should he go, he will have no intention of interfering in politics, which must be settled according to the popular wish.

Meanwhile, he has invited many Chihli leaders to Mukden, some of whom have arrived already including General Feng Yu-hsiang's Chief of Staff.

The Mukden command intends circularising the Chihlites by aeroplane informing them of the recent coup in Peking, and advising their immediate surrender.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Oct. 26.—The Kinhan Railway has issued orders to cease despatching trains to the North, as from yesterday evening.

Railway and telegraph communications are interrupted north of Changhsientien, which place declined to state what the matter was.

Travellers from Peking arriving this morning state that a special form of martial law was proclaimed there two days ago.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 21.—The Waichiaopu has transmitted to the Diplomatic Body a request from the Commandant of the Precautionary Forces for foreigners during the period of precaution to refrain from walking on the city wall between Hatamen and Tungchihmen for pleasure, in order to prevent possible misunderstanding, and the Diplomatic Body have recommended their respective nationals to comply with the request.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 27.—Peking was denuded of troops last night except for guards surrounding the Presidential Palace and a small party at the telegraph office.

(N. B.—The last phrase of the above message evidently implies that a stricter censorship than ever is in force in Peking).

The "Mystery" of Stocks and Bonds

MANY people hesitate to invest their accumulations in stocks and bonds because they lack information. They feel, quite justly, that it is hazardous to put their money into securities which they know little or nothing about.

THERE is no real mystery about stocks and bonds. But it is perfectly true that expert knowledge of them is not widespread. Developments must be followed closely, and the average person cannot do this.

IT is our business to watch financial matters. We are in position to help you choose wisely. We shall be glad to give you information about any stocks, bonds, or other investments, and to assist in their purchase.

Special Parade Of Defense Forces Of Settlement Friday

A special parade of the Defence Forces of the Settlement has been arranged to take place at the Race Course on Friday afternoon commencing at 4:30 p.m.

It was at first hoped to have contingents from the Allied Fleets in attendance at the ceremony but this, unfortunately, has been found to be impracticable.

The Corps, under the command of Colonel Gordon, C.M.G., D.S.O., will be inspected by Mr. S. Fessenden, Chairman of the Council, who, following upon the "March Past," will in a short address convey to the Volunteers the thanks and appreciation of the community for their excellent work during the State of Emergency. It is to be noted that no special cards of invitation will be issued but that enclosures will be provided in the neighborhood of the Saluting Base with accommodation as follows: On the South side.—for official guests and their families, on the North side.—for officers past and present of the Volunteers Corps, Police Force and their families.

FORM KARMA AND REINCARNATION LEGION HERE

As a result of the visit to Shanghai of Miss Gray, Secretary of the Legion, a local Group has been formed. A great many of these Groups exist in America and in other parts of the world, whose object is to study Reincarnation, and Karma—the Law under which Reincarnation takes place. The Legion was organised by a group of people who found the belief in Reincarnation and its application to practical life to be immensely helpful, and who desired to create a channel whereby others might come in contact with this mode of thought, that they too might share in the same beneficent influence in their lives.

Membership in the Legion is open to all, free of any dues, and regardless of race, color, or creed; and as it is intended for those who know nothing of the teachings it desires to spread, applicants are not expected to share in these beliefs. A willingness to study life in the light of Karma and Reincarnation is all that is required, and students are therefore left free at any time either to accept these beliefs as satisfactory in explaining the riddles of life, or else to reject completely.

Meetings for discussion and exchange of opinion will be held regularly on the last Thursday of every month at 12 Rue du Consulat, at 6 p.m., and are open to non-members as well. Those interested are cordially invited to come to the first meeting which is to take place on October 30th. In the meantime, inquirers desiring to know something more about it are requested to address the Secretary, K. & R. Legion, Box 900, Shanghai.

Zimbalist

BY "JABEZ"

Although the violin is perhaps the most appealing of instruments, I confess that violin recitals usually bore me to death. For one thing they are generally given under unsuitable conditions, in large halls where tone qualities are either unduly exaggerated or completely lost. This practice, of course, is determined by financial considerations. An artist of the first rank demands fat fees and the impresario, who has to live somehow, can secure a return on his enterprise only by trying to fill the largest hall he can get hold of. Then, again, most performers spread themselves out on programs which merely display their manual dexterity. Anything given to the audience in the shape of absolute music is regarded as an act of grace, not to be repented too often for fear of offending the God Technique, I mention this by way of contrast, Efrem Zimbalist's recital in the Town Hall on Saturday night was pure joy from beginning to end. Here was no burning up of energy on meaningless flourishes, and acoustic deficiencies were compensated for by the resources of a wonderful instrument. Madame, who has long worshipped at the shrine of Adolph Brodsky in Manchester and is therefore very critical about such matters remarked that she had not had such a treat these many days Nor I. Andreas Moser used to say of Joachim that he played the violin not for its own sake, but in the service of an ideal. That is what one feels about Zimbalist. The content of his music is poetry. With an impeccable technique is combined great depth and variety of expression. His cantabile and left-hand pizzicato are something to wonder at. On Saturday his versatility revealed itself particularly in the spacious harmonics of a Handel sonata, the droning pianissimo of Rameau's Musette, and the unrestrained jolity of Grainger's Irish jig, "Molly on the Shore". Zimbalist has a most pleasing personality, and he is happily free from airs and stage elegancies

Considering the surfeit of music (of various kinds) the public has recently had from the Italian Opera Company, the audience was very large. Needless to say, it was rapturously appreciative, Zimbalist will give his second recital tonight and no lover of music should miss it.

License For Boxing At Carlton Thursday Refused By Municipal Council

'Conduct Of Proceedings' Unsatisfactory, Is Reason Given; Last Week's Events In Smith-Canion Fight

The Oriental Boxing Association's application for a license for boxing for next Thursday night at the Carlton was refused by the Shanghai Municipal Council yesterday. The reason given was that at the same time as their application was received, a police report also reached the hands of Mr. Rowe, Secretary of the Council, indicating that the conduct of the proceedings of the bout last Thursday night was unsatisfactory. Mr. Rowe, in refusing the application, said that unless guarantees could be given that bouts will be carried on in a more satisfactory manner they could not be permitted further.

Asked by a representative of THE CHINA PRESS yesterday as to what particular aspect of last Thursday's fight at the Carlton was the cause of the refusal of a license for this week, Mr. Rowe said that there having been several points, they were not inclined to name any one specific cause of complaint. If there were responsible men of the community who were willing to guarantee that the boxing would be carried on under proper conditions bouts would be permitted again.

LAST THURSDAY'S FIGHT

Though most Shanghai sportsmen are acquainted with the events at last Thursday night's bout at the Carlton it may be well to bring out the main points again. The principal event of the evening was between Matty Smith, a veteran fighter with a long and good reputation, and Rufe Canion, an ambitious Filipino youngster. From the previous records of the two, including their most recent fights, they appeared to be excellently matched, Smith being regarded as the favorite. A few months previous this veteran fighter had knocked out Tingle, the Australian who now holds the bantamweight title of the Orient, in Shanghai. Since then Tingle had obtained a decision over Canion. With these facts in view, neither the promoters of the fight, local sporting writers, nor others interested in boxing, thought that Smith was unfitted to meet Canion, and in fact the general opinion was that it was Smith's fight. In arranging this match the promoters, under the circumstances, do not appear to have been seriously at fault.

Smith signed a contract with the Oriental Boxing Association, the promoters, agreeing to be in physical condition and be able to pass a medical examination prior to the fight. According to the Association, an examination was actually made by their physician, Dr. Marcovici, and Smith was found to be fit. Upon entering the ring, however, Smith was seen to be rather fat, and not in first-class condition. His condition appeared to be much the same, however, as when he won from Tingle here a few months previous, and there was very confidence that the veteran would win the fight.

In fact, Smith and Canion fought an even fight for the first two rounds. In the third round, however, Canion struck some body blows which caused the veteran to stagger slighty, and in the fourth was seen to have the upper hand, knocking Smith down again and again, and administering a severe beating which the veteran took standing. The referee, an absolutely disinterested party who has had much experience and ability as an arbiter of fights, finally stopped the fight, declaring Canion the winner. In his opinion, the fight had ceased to be a sporting event, as Smith was no longer capable of putting up an adequate defense and the only question was the amount of punishment he would be able to stand.

ATTACK ON REFEREE

At this point came the first nasty incident. The referee had no sooner raised Canion's arm in token of victory when Knute Hanson, the heavyweight fighter who was acting as Smith's second, hurtled across the ring, seized the referee by the throat, and drew back his fist to strike him. Fortunately both for Hanson and the referee, the blow never landed. There was an Assistant Commissioner of Police near by, and a number of police in plain clothes in the hall, but no move was made by them to protect the referee.

Other men, however, jumped into the ring and endeavored to quiet down things. Smith himself, only partly conscious, had staggered over to the referee and protested against the stopping of the fight. Rufe Canion, the victor, left the ring after a few moments, and was proceeding to his dressing-room, the fight being apparently over.

MOB RULE

The crowd, however, was not satisfied with the judgment of the referee, though this was supported by the opinion of the judges of the contest, also absolutely disinterested parties. There was pandemonium in the house which threatened to develop into riot, the mob insisting upon the continuation of the fight. Again the police representatives in the house did nothing.

Under the circumstances, the referee consulted with the two judges, Messrs. Rodger and Himrod, and it was decided that although Smith was actually beaten, it seemed advisable to continue, particularly as Canion, who had been already approached, was willing to go on. It took a little time to quiet the house, but when the noise died down somewhat it was announced that the fight would continue.

FIGHT CONTINUES

Smith, having obtained a much-needed rest, succeeded in finishing the interrupted round, but in the next round he was unable to cope with the terrific rain of blows which Canion let loose upon him, and after a couple of knockdowns his second, Hanson, jumped into the ring and admitted defeat.

Smith was severely bruised and beaten, and badly disfigured by the blows to his face, but his physical condition was such that he suffered no serious injury, and in fact was essentially uninjured.

Following the fight the Oriental Boxing Association decided to disqualify both Smith and Hanson for their action, and are furthermore making every endeavor to spread this disqualification as far as possible, in order that these men will understand that their serious breach, particularly Hanson's, is something that cannot be tolerated in the boxing game.

NO SPECIFIC REASON

As stated above, what particular event of the evening called out the Council's refusal to grant a license for this week's boxing is unknown. It seems hardly likely to have been Smith's condition, as he appears to have been in much the same condition when he fought a few months ago. There was no protest then, when he won, and it seems hardly likely that there would be a protest simply because he was badly beaten by a Filipino.

As for the other incidents, Hanson's onslaught on the referee and the breaking out of a near riot, if anyone is to blame it would appear to be the police officials who permitted the referee, judges, and promoters to be intimidated. The only course open to the latter, lacking any sign of protection from the police, was to continue the fight or permit a riot to be staged, and they chose the former course.

ALL-SHANGHAI XI BEATS NAVY TEAM AT PIONEER FIELD

Sailors Handicapped By Loss Of 5 Men; Locals Win Easily, 7-3

The All-Shanghai football team defeated a picked British Navy eleven at the first game played on Pioneer Field this season, the score being 7 to 3. There was a very good crowd present.

It was an easy win for the local eleven, the Navy men being badly handicapped by the departure of the "Despatch" from this port, leaving five places to be filled at the last minute. The game started off well, though the Shanghai eleven was superior from the beginning. A couple of times the Navy threatened to score, but Shanghai stopped them and took the ball back into Navy territory, Sofoulis scoring the first goal. Coulcher netted the second, Johansson scored another, and Goldman landed the ball in the net twice before the end of the half, which ended with the score 5-0.

Shanghai took things easier in the second half. After Goldman scored, Thoburn found the net for the Navy. An excellent kick by Harris gave the sailors a second goal. Goldman then scored his fourth of the game, and just before the end Lane got in one more for the Navy, making the final score 7 goals to 3.

Committee Is Formed To Provide Aid For Needy Cossacks On Ship Here

Shanghai has responded again with characteristic generosity to the appeal made on behalf of the group of Cossacks living on board the steamer "Mongougai" off Woosung, whose condition is so dreadful as almost to pass belief. A number of persons actively interested in alleviating the wretched plight of these unfortunates met last night at the home of Mr. S. W. Wolfe, chairman of the Refugee Relief Advisory Committee to appoint a separate committee to take care of funds already received and arrange for the purchase and distribution of food, clothing and medical supplies at once, in order to save the 110 men on the "Mongougai" from starvation and almost certain death from neglect.

Mr. Blackburn who, with Mr. Wolfe, made a personal investigation of the conditions on the ship which resulted in a public appeal for relief, presided at the meeting and told the gathering, simply but dramatically, of the appalling situation as he and Mr. Wolfe found it Following his account and a brief outline of ways and means to help by Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Gilbert Peet, who is chairman of the Russian Repatriation Committee, Mr. J. C. Carter was elected honorary treasurer, Mrs. Gardner Crane Chairman of the committee and Mrs. F. J. Schuhl, secretary. The committee was empowered to add to its numbers as the need or occasion should demand.

PLIGHT IS DESPERATE

Mr. J. C. Carter, as honorary treasurer was entrusted with the funds already donated amounting to Taels 145 and $125. He also generously offered the use of the premises of McTavish and Co., the well-known drug store at 1 North Soochow Road, corner of Broadway, just across from the Astor House, for a depot where gifts of clothing might be sent.

It was learned that there are now about 110 men on board the ship, sixteen of their number having recently been removed to hospitals ashore because of "chicken blindness" contracted by reason of their forced existence in the dark hold of the ship, and other diseases which required urgent treatment. The various people present who have been working for the aid of the Russians for some time now, gave as their opinion that a minimum of twenty cents daily per man would be required to feed the Cossacks, inasmuch as they have been malnourished for so long that their systems are unable to support on the regular ten cent meal provided at the Soup Kitchen for other destitute Russians ashore.

The plight of these Cossacks is desperate; and they are particularly worthy of aid, for they are here in this wretched situation through no wish or fault of their own. They are remmants of the White army in Siberia and have been turned adrift here through circumstances over which they had no control. With no clothing but the rags on their backs, with but a few days' supply of food when they were seen last Thursday, and with no water except the Whangpoo to drink, their doom, unless something is done for them, is sealed.

WILL GO NORTH

The Committee for Cossack Relief, which came into being last night, will aim to care for these men by providing food, clothing and medical attention, and will try to get them in as healthy a condition as possible before March 31st when it seems likely that they will be able to be sent to Hailar. With the winter season at hand it would mean a sentence of death to send them North. By the end of March, however, the weather will have abated in the North and the political situation, at least so far as the Russians are concerned, will permit of speedy repatriation, it is believed. Funds for their repatriation have already been provided by the Race Club, so that all that remains is to give them enough to get by until the winter is over.

There is an extremely large Russian colony in Hailar now and reports seeping in to Shanghai from there bring the welcome news that the Russians who have gone there from this city are contented and are getting along.

Contributions of money will be gratefully received by the Committee and should be addressed to Mr. J. C. Carter at 52 Route Ghisi, while gifts of clothing, shoes and blankets, all of which are urgently needed, should be sent marked for the Cossack Relief Committee to McTavish's Drug Store, 1 North Soochow road, corner of Broadway.

Empress Of Canada In Port Enroute To South China

The Empress of Canada, Canadian Pacific liner, arrived in Shanghai Sunday from Vancouver. She brought cargo and several well known passengers to Shanghai and others bound for Hongkong.

Mr. George Fitch, connected with the National Y.M.C.A., was a passenger, returning after a business trip of several months to the United States. Bishop L. J. Birney, Methodist Episcopal Church, was also aboard. Among the other Shanghai passengers were Mr. A. J. H. Carhill, director of Dodwell and company, Mr. T. A. Clark, Yangtsze Insurance Association.

A few of the passengers bound for Hongkong include: Sir Paul Chater, interested in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank; the Hon. C. McI. Messer, O.B.E., colonial treasurer at Hongkong; the Hon. Sir H. E. Pollock, Hongkong barrister; Mrs. C. A. Hooper, wife of a Hongkong solicitor.

Wu Confident Of Ability To Win Out Still

lead an expedition against the Christian General at Peking.

General Wu Pei-fu informed me that a note was being forwarded to the Peking Diplomatic Body exposing the treachery of General Feng and emphasising General Wu's confidence in his ability to handle the new emergency. General Wu further pointed out that already his troops are concentrating in Honan, Shantung, Shensi, Hupeh, Anhwei, Chekiang and Kiangsu and Charhar as well as in the vicinity of Tientsin for the advance on Peking. He stated that the town of Langfang on the railway between Peking and Tientsin is already being held by his troops who are now awaiting reinforcements.

Marshal Wu appeared perfectly tranquil and the writer was impressed by his attitude and the ability with which the new preparations are now being carried forward. All troops stationed along the line here are being ordered to return in the direction of Tientsin immediately and General Wu after a brief stay in Tientsin will himself proceed in the direction of the capital to lead the drive personally. It is the writer's opinion that General Chang Tso-lin will not be able to advance for at least a fortnight.

BY LAWRENCE IMPEY

(Correspondent for THE CHINA PRESS With the Chihli forces at Chinwangtao)

Chinwangtao, Oct. 25.—The news of the seizure of Peking by General Feng Yu-hsiang was received at the headquarters of Marshal Wu Pei-fu here on October 23.

The writer personally visited the Chumen and Shanhaikwan fronts yesterday and found the Chihli positions still favorable.

Marshal Wu today made a tour of the battlefronts. It is understood that he intends to maintain a defensive at the present positions, while personally returning South to cope with the emergency which has confronted him as a result of General Feng Yu-hsiang"s coup.

Troops are already moving back in the direction of Tientsin. The foreign correspondents who accompanied Marshal Wu to the front expect to leave tonight.

Marshal Wu's generals in charge of the fighting here are believed to be reliable. The morale of the troops is good, but in order to prepare for all eventualities a detachment of Lancashires from Tientsin has arrived at Shanhaikwan and Japanese destroyers and troops are also reported to be on their way.

Marshal Wu is still confident of success in the fighting both here and at Peking and states that he has received instructions from President Tsao Kun to take all necessary steps to restore order in the vicinity of the capital.

FATHERS AND MOTHERS HAVE RESTFUL NIGHTS

Who Keep Baby's Own Tablets In The House.

When baby wakes in the night crying with pain you are filled with alarm and don't know what to do.

With a vial of Baby's Own Tablets in the house you would soon set matters right; just a Tablet or two administered as a powder (children like them for they are pleasant in taste) and baby, relieved of his pains, quickly drops off into contented, restful, healthful sleep.

There is not an atom of opiate or other harmful drug in Baby's Own Tablets, and they are equally harmless and helpful to the infant in arms as to the child of 6 or more. They reduce fever, cure colic and indigestion, dispel constipation, check diarrhoea, allay teething pains, relieve croup and colds. Your chemist sells them, or post free 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

tion of national problems. The atmosphere is so contaminating that nothing good can be achieved there! If any conference is to accomplish anything at all, it should not be held in Peking.

Asked what he thought of the conference suggested by Feng Yu-hsiang for the solution of national problems, Mr. Tang repeated his assertion that the conference should not be held in Peking. Some centrally located city should be chosen for the gathering, but Mr. Tang predicts little accomplishment since he believes that the people, and not the factional leaders, should decide the fate of the nation.

PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY

"Provincial autonomy is the only solution for our national issues," emphatically stated Mr. Tang. "What is this talk about national reunification? The nation is united and always has been. The people is united. Only the militarists are not. But the recent war, I hope, has given the militarists an excellent lesson. Their power is built upon a sand pile. They must now realise that the slightest storm or rain will cause their collapse. It is high time for the people to assert their rights. Their demand should be nothing less than provincial autonomy."

Mr. Tang intimated that he has no desire to re-enter political life. He feels it his duty to advise the leaders in North China and to guide them to the right path. He is not pessimistic about the situation, because thirteen years in a nation's life is but a brief span and that even his generation fails to accomplish the ideal, his children and grandchildren may still put China on her feet.

Just prior to the interview, Mr. Tang has received a message, informing him that Marshal Wu Pei-fu had embarked at Tangku with 20,000 Chihli troops on 15 vessels for a southern destination. Mr. Tang believed that Wu was returning to Loyang by way of the Yangtsze and the Peking-Hankow Railway.

When the correspondent suggested that Marshal Wu might come to Kiangsu and join hands with Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan in order to make a final stand against Feng Yu-hsiang, Mr. Tang said that this would be terrible for the Kiangsu people. The Kiangsu residents should demand Marshal Chi to put a stop to such a movement. The Kiangyin Forts have sufficient guns to sink all the vessels if necessary. Kiangsu could not tolerate any more warfare, said Mr. Tang. It would take years and years before it could recover from the losses sustained during the Kiangsu-Chekiang war. To bring more troops to Kiangsu would mean a disaster unimaginable.

CANTON ISSUE

Mr. Tang, himself a Cantonese, had much to say on the Canton situation, particularly the recent clash between the government and the volunteers. Both were wrong, according to his opinion. The government, in the first place, invited trouble by allowing a military unit to get beyond its own control. When the government discovered the irregularities, instead of giving the volunteers what it had itself consented, seized upon some technicality about dates and numbers and declared war on the volunteers. The latter then miscalculated their own position. They thought that if they hugged themselves together near Saikwan, like what the defeated Chekiang troops did at the Shanghai North railway station, they would not be fired upon. The government troops did, and the result was burning, looting and killing and wounding of many innocent people.

In his Range Road home, Mr. Tang receives a large number of guests daily ever since the outbreak of the war. Always cheerful and entertaining, he sees every one on and off with the utmost courtesy and kindly disposition. His only hobbies at present are curio-hunting and motoring with his children.

America Stirred By Publication Of Income Tax Figures

(Reuter's American Service)

New York, Oct. 25.—Publication by the press of figures showing the amount of income tax paid by some multi-millionaires following upon the enactment permitting public inspection of Government income-tax records for the purpose of prevention of tax dodging has caused a controversy in all parts of the nation regarding the merits of such a law.

Some papers publish details of the amounts paid, while some others do not publish the details in consequence of a warning by the Department of Justice that publishers of individual figures are liable to prosecution.

The highest figure published exceeds $7,000,000 paid by a millionaire's son.

Henry C. Wallace, U. S. Secretary Of Agriculture, Dead

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Oct. 26.—The death is announced of Mr. Henry Cantwell Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, who died following an operation for appendicitis and gallstones. Mr. Charles Marvin, Chief of the Weather Bureau, has been appointed temporary successor.

Henry Cantwell Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture in the cabinets of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, was born at Rock Island, Ill., May 11, 1866, and throughout the greater period of his life devoted himself to agriculture and the editing of agricultural journals. He graduated from Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1892, and for several years thereafter was a professor in the dairying course in that college.

From 1893 to 1895, he was editor of the Creamery Gazette and Farm and Dairy. In the latter years, he founded and became editor of Wallace's Farmer at Des Moines, Iowa, continuing to serve in that capacity until his appointment to the cabinet by President Harding on March 4, 1921.

Secretary Wallace had always taken an active interest in agricultural associations. He was secretary of the Corn Belt Meat Producers' association for fourteen years, a permanent member of the National Shippers' Conference, and a member of the United States Live Stock Industry Commission. During the war he took an active interest in Y.M.C.A. work and was a member of the national war work council of that organisation.

KIANGNAN DOCK CASE UP AGAIN IN U. S. COURT

Portuguese Firm Intervenes, Claim Purchase Of Materials

The case which the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works has brought against the Commercial Express and Storage Co. to obtain a restraining order preventing the defendant company from parting with certain materials alleged to belong to the plaintiff, was continued yesterday morning in the United States Court for China, before Judge Milton D. Purdy. Messrs. J. H. Tesdale and M. Reader Harris applied for a preliminary injunction to restrain the defendant from parting with the property in question until the question of ownership could be determined.

Mr. F. J. Schuhl appeared for the defendant, and Mr. R. S. Haskell applied to intervene on behalf of the Cheng Ye Tai Machine Tool Co., who allege that they are the owners through purchase.

Mr. Teesdale in support of the motion stated that it was the contention of the plaintiffs that the material in question was looted from the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works.

Mr. Haskell in applying for leave to intervene stated that his client, Chen Ping Mai, a Portuguese citizen and proprietor of the intervening firm, claimed that he was a bona fide purchaser. Counsel read an affidavit to the effect that the intervenor claimed to have bought the goods from S. C. Young who displayed to intervenor full authority to dispose of the goods. Counsel contended that Mr. Young had authority from Ho Feng-lin, duly signed and sealed, to sell the goods in question.

Mr. Teesdale:—The authority comes from Mr. Chow, who was put into the Kiangnan Dock when it was usurped by Ho Feng-lin.

His Honor pointed out that he could not try the issue as to ownership between the plaintiff and the intervenor neither of them being subject to the jurisdiction of the court

Mr. Harris supporting the plea for an interim injunction until the ownership of the property had been settled by process brought in the appropriate court, pointed out that the United States Court was the only court which could hold the goods in the meantime. If that were not done it might happen that the goods would be removed and disposed of before the plaintiffs could ever bring their suit in the Portuguese Court.

His Honor granted the motion to intervene so that Mr. Haskell would be apprised of the developments in the case and allowed counsel for plaintiff to come forward in due course with proof upon which the interim injuction which he sought could, if possible, be granted.

Musical Interludes Are Latest Offering By Carlton Theater

The packed audience that assembled at the Carlton Theater on Sunday night to see that remarkable screen classic, "Scaramouche," were treated to an agreeable surprise by the management of the Theater in the shape of extra musical features which proved a welcome addition to the bill of fare. During the first part of the picture program, before the screening of the main attraction, the curtain was raised and disclosed to view the Carlton Cafe Jazz Orchestra combined with the Palais de Danse jazz combination, who were heard in a riot of jazz music. The innovation made an instant hit with the audience, who vociferously asked for more—and got it. The Aloha Sextette was also well received. It is one of the best Hawaiian string bands heard in Shanghai for some time. Miss Reeta Miller concluded a very acceptable musical interlude by giving a couple of songs in costume in pleasing style.

This enterprising innovation will help considerably in enlivening the proceedings at the Carlton Theater. The musicians are 30 in number, comprising three orchestras, which will discourse extra musical features every evening. The augmented symphony orchestra will play appropriate music during the showing of screen classics. There is only one little suggestion we have to offer: if the management of the Carlton Theater could be persuaded to present the musical and vocal interlude during the usual interval, it would help considerably in relieving the tedium of the wait.

ming with his 5,000 Hupeh troops who are now in control of the Shanghai arsenal. It was reported yesterday that a shipment of $75,000 contributed by General Hsiao Yao-nan is coming down the river from Wuchang for the purpose of paying off the Hupeh troops which has been the chief reason for their delay in getting out of Shanghai.

General Chi also said that the 9,000 Chekiang troops stationed at the Kiangwan Race Course would also be taken care of as soon as possible. As to the final destination of the Hupeh troops which have been causing so much trouble here, General Chi was not certain. They may go north, or they may go back to their native province, he said.

NOT RESPONSIBLE, HE SAYS

General Chi was also most emphatic in disavowing any personal connection or responsibility for the Hupeh troops and said that he had put the entire matter of their final disposition up to the Central Government. The Hupeh troops it seems do not care particularly for honor. Their chief interest in life is money, it seems, and originally they demanded the sum of $150,000 from the chamber of commerce in the native city of Shanghai. Since they did not get this, their demands have become more moderate and Chi thought last night that $75,000 would satisfy them.

GENERAL FENG'S COUP

When asked for an explanation of the Feng coup in Peking, Marshal Chi was of the opinion that it was the final culmination of a long standing misunderstanding and difference of viewpoint between Generals Feng and Wu. Peking politicians undoubtedly must have also had much to do with the matter, in General Feng's opinion.

General Chi does not intend to go North to join Wu Pei-fu for the present at least.

Asiatic Fleet Ships Leave Shanghai Port

Four vessels of the Asiatic fleet which have been in Shanghai waters for the last two months are leaving this week.

The Asheville got away yesterday for Tsingtao while the destroyers Preble, Pruitt and Hulbert are scheduled to leave today for Manila for winter station.

Navy officials here yesterday said they knew of no special orders sending vessels to the north in preparation for any emergency.

One destroyer is due to arrive at Chefoo from Manila today.

money and jewellery to the value of $274 and then departed.

A party of six or seven men who spoke the Northern dialect and are believed to have been ex-soldiers raided a home at 391 Lloyd Road, according to a report filed with police of the Louza station Sunday night. The men were masked with handkerchiefs. One of them knocked at the front door. An amah answered and the man who had knocked and another man pushed past her. The second man went to the back door of the house and admitted five others. After an hour's search of the place, the robbers departed, taking with them nine pieces of silk, skin-lined clothing, twenty-five articles of jewellery, and $123 in cash, the total being valued at $1,060.

Clothing and jewellery worth $750 were stolen by six men who raided a house at 1689 East Seward Road Sunday morning. The intruders knocked at the door, and when a servant answered all pushed past with pistols cocked. The occupants of the house were herded into a small room on the lower floor with one man guarding them, while the other five made a thorough search of the premises and then all decamped with clothing and jewellery worth $750.

fully appreciating the serious consequences that the forgery might have on both countries, the Soviet Government urgently and decidedly offers recourse to an impartial arbitration court to establish the fact that the letter is a forgery.

ISSUE COMMUNIQUE
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 26.—A remarkable communique has been issued by the Labor Party Headquarters, categorically describing as untrue, firstly that the letter attributed to M. Zinovieff had been discussed by the Cabinet, secondly, that it was intercepted in the post, photographed and delivered to the Communists in the usual way, and thirdly, that Labor candidates have been instructed not to talk about the Russian Treaty.

The communique states that the obviously contradictory statements of the Foreign Office and M. Rakovsky regarding the authenticity of the document cannot be finally settled until after the election and Mr. MacDonald's return to the Foreign Office. It invites the Conservative leaders and the paper first in possession of a copy of the alleged document to be frank with the public and state how they came into possession of it.

The communique adds that the whole circumstances surrounding the Zinovieff letter are regarded with the deepest suspicion in Labor quarters. It comments on the singularity of the fact that copies of the letter were in possession of a London daily paper and of the Conservative headquarters before it was issued by the Foreign Office to the press. It says that while the question of the authenticity of the document remains open, there can be no doubt whatsoever that the vigorous note to M. Rakovsky entirely disproves the allegation that the Government is under the heel of the Communists. It concludes by saying that the Note gives a guarantee that Anglo-Russian agreements will be enforced by the Government.

It is expected that Mr. MacDonald will refer to the letter at Cardiff tomorrow.

BALDWIN SPEAKS
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 26.—Mr. Stanley Baldwin, speaking at Perth yesterday, denounced the Russian Treaty. He remarked that every foreign country which had borrowed money from London in the course of the past 30 years had defaulted wholly or partly, with the exception of Japan and Chili. Mr. Philip Snowden at Colne Valley said that if the Zinovieff letter proves authentic, the question of the ratification of the Russian Treaty assumes a new aspect. The British Government will never ratify it if evidence is produced that the Moscow Soviet has been guilty of bad faith since the Treaty was signed.

CONSERVATIVE VIEWS
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—The Conservative and Liberal organs are making capital out of the apparent delay of the Foreign Office in answering M. Zinovieff's letter.

It is authoritatively pointed out today, however, that there was not the slightest delay between the receipt of the letter and the dispatch of the British reply, having regard for the time necessary for the consideration of the letter and the steps to be taken to deal with the situation. It is considered undesirable to state the exact date on which the British Government received the letter. The reply was previously submitted to Mr. MacDonald, who fully approved of it and there was no question of publication by another source forcing the hands of the Government.

Notwithstanding Communist denials, the Foreign office is entirely satisfied of the genuineness of the Zinovieff letter.

M. Rakovsky has sent a letter to the Foreign Office protesting that his embassy was not notified prior to the publication of the document and declaring that the letter is an obvious forgery, which should have been clear to the Foreign Office officials.

Conservative headquarters today are convinced that the Zinovieff correspondence will rally many waverers to the Conservative side.

Liberal headquarters are of the opinion that there is grave peril of reaction after such an exposure and that only Liberalism can save the nation from it.

Mr. MacDonald, in a speech at Swansea, did not refer to the Zinovieff correspondence. On being interviewed later he said that the time was not ripe for a statement on the matter. He would probably deal wih it in his speeches.

Mr. Clynes, speaking at Northampton, said that the document, if authentic, would imperil the arrangements with Russia, but there was nothing new in the organisation of political bombshells on the eve of an election.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, in a speech at Belper referred sarcastically to "the remarkable disclosures of the newspapers" as showing the efforts that were being made to deceive the people. He said that he did not know whether the letter was genuine or not.

Marquess Curzon, speaking at Leicester, said that copies of the Zinovieff letter were handed to Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Henderson when it reached England a month ago. The letter came into the hands of a newspaper, otherwise we should never have heard the Government's reply to the "wickedest and most pernicious, detestable and damnable document that was ever printed." He declared that an amazing thing was that it had been reserved to Mr. MacDonald to make the exposure himself.

A Communist meeting in Trafalgar Square passed a resolution demanding that the Government should denounce "the forgery of the Zinovieff letter, withdraw the provocative Note to Moscow with apologies and dismiss the official responsible for the Note." When the singing of the "Red Flag" started the crowd sang the National Anthem.

NOT RECEIVED, CLAIM
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—Mr. Inkpin, secretary of the Communist Party in Great Britain, denies that his party received the Zinovieff letter. He expresses the opinion that the document is a complete forgery.

A similar statement has been issued by M. Rakovsky's secretary.

IN GERMANY, TOO
(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 25.—A Communist organ publishes a manifesto from the executive of the Moscow International signed by M. Zinovieff in commemoration of the anniversary of the Communist revolt in Hamburg, calling upon German workers to enter into close relations with Communist troops for the organisation of revolution.

The maninfesto concluded by calling for cheers for the German Communists, "the advance guard of the German proletariat and of world revolution."

SEES DAWN OF REVOLT
(Reuter's Service)

Riga, Oct. 26.—In connection with the celebration of the anniversary of the Communist outbreak at Hamburg last year, M. Zinovieff today declared that a proletarian revolution was approaching in Germany in spite of all the Dawes, Eberts and Noskes. The Hamburg rising was a Communist dress rehearsal.

FOREIGN OFFICE STAND
(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—Reuter's Agency learns that although the Note to M. Rakovsky was published in Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's absence the Foreign Office was aware of Mr. MacDonald's determination not to allow subversive propaganda and, accepting its authenticity, published M. Zinovieff's letter.

M. Rakovsky's letter was addressed to Mr. MacDonald. It referred to the mutual agreement between Britain and the Soviet last year providing, with the purpose of strengthening friendly relations, for the settlement of any incidents by direct conversations, resorting to notes only if these conversations failed. M. Rakovsky describes the Zinovieff letter as a tissue of absurdities and points out that the Communist International is never described as the "Third Communist International" because there has not been a First or a Second, while M. Zinovieff is made to sign himself "President of the Presidium of the Executive Committee" whereas he always signs as "President of the Executive Committee." M. Rakovsky protests against "this using of false documents against the Soviet Union" and also against violation of the agreement above-mentioned. In conclusion he declares that he is convinced that the British Government will take steps to investigate the authorship of the document.

W. F. HYPES AND FONG SEC GUESTS OF Y's MEN CLUB

Mission Of Returned Students In National Regeneration Emphasised

"No greater opportunities were ever offered than they are today for the young men of China who have returned from America and Europe, to cooperate in constructive work for the regeneration of China," remarked Mr. W. F. Hypes, head of the sales department of Marshall Field and Co., Chicago, Ill. and President of the Chicago Y.M.C.A., who is on a tour of the Orient, at yesterday's weekly tiffin of the Y's Men's Club of Shanghai, held at the Carlton Cafe at which Mr. Wm. Yinson Lee presided.

Mr. Hypes spoke of his visit to Peking, Nanking and other cities in North China and referred to China's glorious past, but said that what should concern Chinese thought today was the future which could only be built up solidly upon an honest policy without official corruption. The first thing to do, however, was to stop the present fighting. China's trade with America would increase immeasurably with stable conditions and he instanced the fact that Marshall Field and Co. imported very large quantities of Chinese cotton for manufacturing purposes, notwithstanding the fact that America was the greatest cotton producing country in the world.

Dr. Fong Sec was also a guest of the Club and as a returned student from America spoke of the part that Western educated Chinese could play in effective constructive work in connection with improving conditions in China.

FOR THROAT, CHEST & LUNGS

BREATHE THE PEPS MEDICINE TO ESCAPE DANGEROUS COUGHS & CHILLS.

For the throat and chest affections so widely prevalent at this season there can only be one speedy, rational method of treatment, and that is to breathe a natural volatile medicine like Peps straight to the lungs. This method is directly opposed to swallowing drug-laden liquid medicines which act on stomach, liver and heart, but on the lungs last and least of all.

This same problem of conveying a natural medicine straight into the lungs had exercised the minds of medical men for a generation. It was ultimately solved by Peps, which bring the famous lung healing balsams of the pine forest to strengthen weakened tisues, destroy noxious germs, check destructive coughing, and open-up the clogged air tubes.

Owing to their volatile character, Peps are put up in air tight glass bottles and every tablet is separately enclosed in a silver foil jacket, thus preserving its full medicinal potency until required. When dissolved on the tongue, Peps give off powerful medicinal fumes. Breathing deeply of these, the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs are filled to their utmost with a soothing germicidal and strength-giving influence.

The immediate sensation of comfort and free breathing brought by Peps is evidence of their beneficial effect. They are acknowledged the most successful remedy ever discovered for coughs, colds and chills, chest-wheeziness and tightness, influenza, sore throat, laryngitis, bronchial asthma, night cough, bronchitis and other throat, chest and lung weaknesses of young and old.

Be sure and ask your medicine dealer for a bottle of Peps breatheable tablets. Full directions enclosed. Direct from Agents. Messrs. Wakefield & Co. China (Ltd) Szechuen Rd. Shanghai.

"Imperial" Manganese Steel

Whether used for the lips of Dredger Buckets, the Bucket Chain Links, Pins or Bushes, means fewer stoppages due to breakage or rapid wear. As an example the following extract from a letter may be quoted: "Up to the time I left West Africa the three Bucket Dredgers (gold dredging)

did not break a pin

One Dredger has been at work neary two years, and the other two, 6 months. I think the wear of the Pins constitutes a record."

What would a record like that mean to you in money saved?

Commercial News

Economic And Financial Conditions During August

The following is the opening instalment of a report on economic and financial conditions during September compiled by the Chinese American Bank of Commerce in which is described the reaction of the recent war on the course of business:

It would be futile to attempt a review of trade during the month of September, seeing that all commercial activity in China's centers of trade has come to a standstill. The fighting round Shanghai did not lead to any decision in September. In the course of that month Manchuria declared war on the Central Government at Peking, thus spreading the consequences of the contest carried on by force of arms over practically the entire country. Import trade was dead, and demand for articles which are usually booming in times of war, like flour, woollen cloth and metals, was below the average, so that prices remained depressed and often below replacing cost.

Exports were hindered by the general insecurity and frequently by the impossibility to convey goods to destination. Another factor impeding the development of exports was the prevalence of high silver prices, contrasted with descending levels of the value of the Yen. This refers notably to raw silk in which scarcely any new transactions have taken place at Shanghai in course of September, while Japan was enabled to ship fairly large quantities at lower prices, exporters being aided by the declining value of the Japanese Yen. In spite of this factor, silk prices in Yokohama declined Yen 200 a bale in September.

Some of the visible consequences of the civil strife were: Rapidly increasing prices for rice, the staple food of China's masses. During July rice at Shanghai averaged $12—per stone. By the end of September quotations had advanced to $17.—. The cessation of publication of some newspapers and a great reduction in the size of others, owing to many advertisers discontinuing giving their support. Chinese Native Banks ceased to finance most of their clients needs owing to the uncertainty of tightness of the money market, but only precaution in the midst of anxious times. Money was fairly easy at Shanghai. On the last day of August Native interest stood at 50 Candareens per 1,000 Taels; on 30th September it had fallen to 15 Candareens, with a tendency to go lower still. The average for September was 25.5 Candareens for 1,000 Taels per day.

Another sympton of the war was the total disorganisation of railway traffic, which in most parts of the country served military purposes only. The Shanghai-Nanking as well as the Shanghai-Hangchow railways were not available for passenger, or goods traffic. The Peking Mukden line was reserved for military transport. Even the lines situated outside the fighting zones (Peking-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow) were badly affected, and prevented from serving fruitful purposes.

It sounds peculiar, but is true nevertheless that Tientsin, situated near a rich coal basin, is likely to have a coal famine in October, as trains were not available to carry coal there.

While the Chinese railways were suffering a severe setback from their prosperous career, the South Manchurian Railway had an excellent month. Its returns for the month of September consisted of:

Receipts:	Yen
Passenger	955,275
Goods	4,132,178
Warehouse	17,317
Harbor	13,080
Miscellaneous	323,278
Total	Yen 5,441,128

The above gives the daily average of Yen 181,371. So far the aggregate receipts from April, the beginning of the current fiscal year, reached Yen 34,624,414.

Compared with the preceding month, the September returns showed an increase by Yen 505,507, with a daily average increase by Yen 22,157.

By the side of the same month of last year, however, the monthly total was Yen 259,853 less, and the daily average Yen 8, 662 less.

As the said line is carrying soldiers and equipment on behalf of Chang Tso-lin, its receipts are likely to increase further.

Of economic-political events in China the most important was the conclusion of a treaty on September 22 between Chang Tso Lin and the Soviet Authorities, concerning the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Herewith a full reproduction of the alleged treaty, as printed in the "Far Eastern Times":

"Article 1—The Chinese Eastern Railway shall be the means of communication of China and Russia, which shall be returned to China unconditionally after 80 years (according to the original Sino-Russian Agreement it should be returned to China unconditionally after 80 years).

"Article 2—The President of the C. E. R. shall be appointed by China, the four Directors to be appointed by the two countries, of whom the Chinese Directors shall be appointed by the Government of the Three Eastern Provinces.

"Article 3—Other problems of the C. E. R. shall be settled according to the agreement concerning the C. E. R. signed on May 31, 1924.

"Article 4—The Government of the Three Eastern Provinces gives formal recognition to the Soviet Government.

"Article 5—Regarding the navigation rights on the Sungari and Amur Rivers Russian steamers shall have freedom of navigation and anchorage along the bank in Chinese territory and they shall receive the same treatment as accorded to Chinese steamers in the loading and unloading of goods.

"Article 6—As regards the demarcation of boundaries between China and Russia it shall be determined after surveying has been done by a joint Sino-Russian Commission.

"Article 7—China shall temporarily withdraw her demand for compensation for losses sustained by China through the depreciation of the paper rouble and through the Russian Revolution and the question shall be dealt with after further investigations have been made.

"Article 8—The resumption of trade relations between the two countries shall be decided upon after the appointment of Consuls to the various localities in Siberia by the Government of the Three Eastern Provinces.

"Article 9—The Government of the Three Eastern Provinces shall, after ascertaining whether they have any residence, issue passports to the Russians travelling in the Three Eastern Provinces without passports and impose restrictions on them.

"Article 10—Mr. Karakhan, the Soviet Plenipotentiary Representative in the Far East, shall recognise the sovereign rights of the Three Eastern Provinces.

"Article 11—Within two weeks after the signature of this Agreement a formal conference shall be held to discuss the details, to which each contracting party shall appoint expert delegates for the discussion and settlement of all points in detail."

The following is a record of the principal events during September in various parts of China, according to direct information received by us.

Shantung Province has so far remained outside the sphere of hostilities, yet the consequences were keenly felt in the capital, Tsinanfu. The dislocation of all traffic on three rail-lines, on which Tsinan has to rely for trade, made itself keenly felt. Yet there was an outlet to the sea left via the Tsingtau railway to take care of Tsiman's exports. Just when the war had begun the provincial authorities deemed it advisable to put into force a special likin tax to be levied on all goods transported by the railway. The consequence is that huge stocks of goods are piled up along the line, waiting that the bond protests, against what is considered illegal taxation should be heeded before goods will be moved. The tobacco crop in Shantung has been harvested a month ago, but not a bale has been shipped out of the province as yet.

Chefoo reports a total cessation of commercial activities. That port is ruled by adherents of Wu Pei Fu, who have been fit to confiscate the entire fleet of the enterprising Chinese shipowners, Ching Kee & Co., at least a dozen vessels, we hear. At the same time the Tsi Tung Bank at Chefoo has forcibly been closed by the authorities, because General Lu Yung Hsiang has an interest in the said Bank. Not only were the Banks funds confiscated and shipped to Tientsin, but its debtors were requested to repay what they owed to the Bank within five days, or face imprisonment. The creditors have not been told whether or when they will be repaid.

In Manchuria the month of September brought a financial crisis. Mukden and Harbin markets are amply supplied with Banknotes, which are not necessarily convertible into silver, and which have depreciated considerably. The banknotes circulating at Harbin and purporting to represent large Dollars, were quoted up to 130. The Mukden notes, of local origin, representing small coin $, threatened to vanish into nothingness; but before this could happen the authorities forbade transactions below a certain limit. Apparently they have the power to make the prohibition effective.

Similar conditions prevailed at Szechwan Province and also in Fukien, where prohibitive premiums of $ remittances to other parts of the country were in force in September. Even Hupeh was badly affected. Hankow, acting as clearing house for transactions between the far western provinces and Shanghai, was obliged to admit that its Tael, which is 2½ percent above par, when compared with the Shanghai Tael, had suddenly lost what justly belongs to it by right of weight and fineness. In August 100 Hankow Taels were quoted in the market at 103.50 Shanghai Taels, the usual average. On September 8th Hankow Taels 1,000 were worth 978 Shanghai Taels only, a difference of 5.7 percent. The peculiar part is that here depreciated banknotes do not enter into the problem, as the quotations relate to silver in Hankow compared with silver in Shanghai, which means 102.50 to 100.

The cause of this anomaly is the prohibition to export silver from Hankow to Shanghai. The same explanation, though with a lesser degree of accuracy, refers to the depreciation of the dollar currencies in Foochow, in Chungking, in Manchuria, etc where it is prohibited until further notice to export specie.

Owing to the civil war Tientsin is threatened with the loss of a large part of its trade in sheeps wool. This commodity used to come to Tientsin from Mongolia via Kalgan, but has now to be diverted to Vladivostok in consequence of risks connected with the war.

INTERNAL TRADE

While there was very little new business to record in September, previously booked orders, imports as well as exports, continued to come in and go out. In fact movements were not inconsiderable.

Looking at exports from Shanghai during September one must bear in mind that a large part of the commodities shipped away in course of that month has either been stored here previous to the outbreak of hostilities or has passed through Shanghai by way of trans-shipment from Tientsin, Tsingtau, Hankow and other places. Articles for which there was genuine demand from abroad (like pigs intestines, bristles, egg products, etc.) could not be dealt in, as Chinese dealers were unable to guarantee delivery. The following are the principal items of export from Shanghai during September 1924:

Raw Silk:	Piculs:
White	4,432
Yellow	2,000
Tussah	1,168
Waste	5,720
Cocoons Waste	3,483
Tea:
Black	15,900
Green	27,160
Dust	5,900
Beans	37,350
Bristles	5,200
Cotton Waste	5,950
Eggs:
Frozen	10,400
Dried	446
Albumen	6,230
Yolk	9,073
Feathers	2,649
Groundnuts Kernels	29,190
Groundnuts in Shells	3,503
Hides:
Cow	1,796
Buffalo	490
Pigs Intestines	1,142
Groundnuts oils	3,490
Wood Oil	31,679

It would lead too far, were we to attempt a discussion of the principal articles involved. Some short remarks are due to be devoted to silk. It is the wild silk (Tussah) calling for comment this time. Prices have come down to Taels 500 a picul for best quality. The cost to holders, not counting interest and charges, was at least 750 Taels. The stock unsold on September 30 is estimated to have averaged 2,500 bales. Losses are therefore rather heavy.

Regarding silk in general, we take the following statistical figures from "The Business Review" (Philadelphia):

"According to figures of the Silk Association of America, stocks of raw silk in American warehouses on Ausust 1 were 23, 213 bales, as compared with 24,543 bales on July 1 and 22,914 bales on August 1, 1923. Imports and deliveries to mills have increased from 20,933 bales and 23,164 bales, respectively, on July 1, to 29,322 bales and 30,952 bales on August 1. The monthly average of silk consumption for the first seven months of this year was 28,235 bales, which compares with an average for a similar period of 31,932 bales in 1923 and of 27,808 bales in 1922.

"During the fiscal year ending June 30, imports of raw silk, chiefly from Japan, amounted to $350,528,136, as compared with $405,796,394 in the previous year."

SHANGHAI'S TRADE WITH AMERICA

The following group figures, compiled by Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul General show Shanghai's direct exports to America for the 1st nine months of 1924.

It will be seen that, when compared with the same period of 1923, there is a falling off this terms of U. S. $18.837,000.—

Raw silk alone has lost 15 million $ in value. Whole dried eggs was 1 million $ less this season. Goat skins as well as tea are likewise 1 million $ each reduced. There are slight gains in the value of laces, bristles, sheeps wool, dried albumen, egg yolk, sesamum seeds and weasel skins to be recorded.

The Yap typhoon continues to advance NW ward. Southerly to South-Easterly winds over Shantung and along our coasts; Nly to NEly winds in the Formosa Strait. Mild and sunny day all along the coast getting overcast in the evening in our regions.

Oct. 27.—Overcast with little drizzling rain and mist. Sly slight breeze. The pressure is decreasing.

Oct. 28.—Overcast and misty weather with threats of rain. The Northern depression will cross Manchuria E'wards. Rather strong N'ly to N-W'ly winds over the Yellow Sea. Freshening W'ly to N-W'ly winds along our coasts. Unsteady breezes in the South.

Will Foreigners Have To Unscramble The Puzzle?

THE editor in America or Britain who heads his discussion of the Chinese political situation with the familiar phrase, "The Chinese Puzzle," has our sympathies for when a situation is puzzling to the average foreigner in Shanghai, Peking or Tientsin, how is a person residing outside of China to understand what it is all about. And the worst part of it is that the Chinese themselves cannot make heads or tails of a situation the only certain element of which is its uncertainty.

The only certain elements in the situation today apparently is that Peking is now under the personal military control of General Feng Yu-hsiang, the so-called Christian General. Just what inspired him in his sudden decision to turn on his superior General Wu Pei-fu and to seize control of the Government is unknown, as is also the degree of his alleged alliance with Marshall Chang Tso-lin of Mukden. The telegrams from Mukden take great pains to make us believe that the whole stunt in Peking was engineered from Mukden, but there is doubt regarding this phase of the situation. If General Feng is inspired by high motives of bringing about peace in China through a conference of all interests in the land, we naturally are skeptical of statements to the effect that he has decided upon an alliance with the Mukden warlord as the medium for bringing about the greatly desired peace.

About the best explanation of General Feng's movements that has come to our attention was brought to Shanghai last week by a foreign merchant many years resident in Peking to the effect that General Feng was never enthusiastic on the matter of a war between Chihli and Fengtien at this time. General Feng thought there was already too much suffering in China caused by flood and famine and that this should not be added to by a new civil war. Finally, according to the report, General Feng was induced to take part in the war on the promise that he would be made Tuchun of Manchuria in case Marshal Wu Pei-fu was successful. Then when it developed that General Wu was finding the fight at Shanhaikwan of a much more serious nature than he had expected, General Feng decided to return to Peking and take a hand in the situation himself. Another report had it that when General Chang Tso-lin learned that General Feng had been offered the tuchunship of Manchuria he got in touch with the Christian General and told him that if he would join hands with the Mukden warlord that he could have General Wu Pei-fu's job. So there we are!

So regardless of what General Feng's motives were or are, he apparently has not added a great deal to the final settlement of the Chinese political situation—rather he has made it more unsettled—and at least from the standpoint of Chinese public opinion in this section, he has not helped himself greatly and in all probability has not added to his prestige as China's great Christian leader. The interview which we print elsewhere with Mr. Tong Shao-yi, former Premier and Southern leader, undoubtedly voices the sentiment of thinking Chinese regarding General Feng's actions.

The chief element in the whole situation is the uncertainty which General Feng's action creates in the minds of thinking foreigners as well as Chinese as to the abilities of China's present military and political leaders ever to solve the present situation. In other words, how is China ever to be able to develop a government if each leader plays his own game when opportunity offers. It would all seem to point to the Powers ultimately being forced to take a hand in the situation and bringing pressure to bear to force a conference of military and political leaders to the end that some kind of a peace may be brought into being.

The imminence of national elections in both America and Britain may point the way to some such understanding on the part of the Powers chiefly interested in the China situation. The British election tomorrow and the American election next week should place both those powers in a position to know where they stand on foreign policies for a considerable period. Up to the present they have been unable to do anything except pursue a safe policy of "neutrality," but with political matters at home stabilised for a time it is natural that they should have time and inclination for attention to matters in this part of the world.

Last Thursday's Fight

THE article which we published in this column on Saturday has created quite an amount of comment, favorable and otherwise. In particular it has been thought that the Oriental Boxing Association was roughly handled by the writer. We do not think so. The only reference to them was in connection with the question of the medical examination of the men. To make our position clear, we have no criticism whatever to offer as to the matching of these two men, Smith and Canion. The opinion of the public, as much as of those responsible for the bout, was that it was an evenly matched contest in which Smith was expected to make up for the discount of age by greater experience of ring tactics. The betting appears to have favored Smith a little, the difference in weight was on Smith's side, and if Canion were the speedier it was expected that Smith would be able to withstand his onslaughts until he could administer a knock-out to his opponent. On the whole it seemed to be a perfectly fair match, one on which no serious criticism can be levelled against the Association. We did not criticise the Association on this score at all.

As regards medical examination, we are now informed that such did take place, that both men were medically examined previous to the bout. But how long previous? That is what we have yet to learn. Our point on the matter is perfectly clear. We wrote, "It seems incumbent on the Boxing Association to ensure certainty that men who enter the ring on such arduous contests are in condition to undergo the ordeal . . . . . There seems no reason why contestants should not be required to submit to a medical examination before entering the ring . . . . . This may possibly lead to disappointments occasionally; men may be declared unfit at the last moment." That can mean nothing else than that the men should be examined at the last moment before entering the ring, for an examination five or six hours earlier may prove nothing. It is within human probability that a man physically fit at, say, 3 p.m., may, for various reasons, be unfit at 10.30 p.m. The opinion of many who witnessed the bout, formed by some before it commenced and by others before the first round had gone very far, was that Smith was not fit. That is a matter of opinion, and involves a question which can only be settled by a medical pronouncement that, as a result of a medical examination made immediately before the bout, Smith was considered fit for the ordeal he entered upon. To say the least it would then seem a trifle peculiar that a bottle supposedly containing smelling salts should be applied to Smith's nostrils by one of his seconds before hostilities commenced. This would hardly seem necessary if he were fit before he went into the ring.

This question may never rise again if the Oriental Boxing Association adopts our suggestion as to medical examinations. We are not disposed to blame them if this were not done before, because such incidents as that of Thursday night are not usually to be foreseen by ordinarily prudent men. But in the light of this experience, if they are allowed to continue these boxing contests, they would be well advised to take every possible step to obviate recurrences of such incidents. We are sure they will do so to the best of their ability. The sport is very popular in Shanghai, it affords many a pleasant evening; but we are convinced that neither the authorities nor the sporting public would stand for a repetition of Thursday's occurrence, even if so little blame is attached to the Association as appears in this instance.

Other Views Than Ours On The War In China

"OUR ORIENTAL PROBLEM"

(New York Journal of Commerce)

Information that Japan is sending large forces, including several destroyers, to China as the result of the killing of various Japanese or Formosan citizens during the disturbances there was to have been expected. Following after the example of the Western nations, Japan has of late years been quite ready to resist or avenge wrongs done to her citizens or dependents, particularly when those wrongs have been committed by a weaker nation. The present state of things, however, involves for our own country a number of factors which have not been present on recent occasions of the same sort.

Due to the undertakings entered into at the Washington Arms Conference, the United States is in no position to do anything in China that Japan does not approve or that would bring us into a conflict with that nation. Our action in regard to immigration has effectually destroyed the sentiment of good will toward us that had grown up among the Japanese people as a result of our earthquake relief efforts, and Japan would undoubtedly be glad of some suitable means of indicating her feeling toward the United States. That the disorders in China and the loss of life and property by Japanese citizens will be regarded by her, especially if repeated or continued, as good reason for resuming the grip upon territory and business in China which she enjoyed before the Washington Conference may be taken for granted. Thus there bids fair to develop a situation that will not only destroy much of the work accomplished at the Washington Conference, so far as relates to the Orient but that will leave us in a rather unenviable position, able to protect our citizens and interests only by the grace of Japan, a country which we have already slighted and insulted.

Diplomacy even when successful is of little value if represented by a series of isolated occurrences. It must be a continuous process directed toward the accomplishment of a definite object. Our own object has been supposed to be liberation of China, the maintenance of peace in the Orient and the recognition of an "open door" policy there. To that end we have given up our fortification of the Philippines, our naval power in the Pacific and a good many other less tangible advantages. This was well if our Government at Washington had had the skill and persistence to adhere to the pursuit of its objects and to make them real. Unfortunately there has been little indication of such skill or ability, and the result is the rather undignified and unsatisfactory posture into which we are being forced.

Correspondence

SHOULD JAPAN INTRUDE?

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir,—In a previous issue The International Journal discussed the difference of opinion in Japan concerning the duty or the necessity of Japan's interference in China's civil war. In the main Japan, like every other foreign country, has no right to interfere in China's wars or in any of China's internal affairs.

Lately reference is made in several of the Japanese discussions to what is called Japan's special position and her special interests in Manchuria and Mongolia. This phraseology is like what she used when she presented in 1915 her Twenty-one Demands and in her subsequent defence of such action. It calls for minute examination, lest China be made to lose through her yielding to a wrong policy.

As a matter of principle, if comparison is made between Japan and Western nations, Japan may claim to have more special interests in China than have the more distant nations in Europe and America. Should the comparison be that of Japan's interests and position in China, particularly in Manchuria and Mongolia, and of China's interests and position, then China alone has such specialty within her own jurisdiction and not Japan. Japan has a special position in Japan, and China in China.

Thirty years ago Imperial Russia broached the idea of her possessing such a special position in Manchuria. Twenty years ago, after the war between Russia and Japan, Japan claimed such priority in South Manchuria, while Russia retained her claim in North Manchuria. The Soviet Government follows the same line of action and insists that she is before all others both in North Manchuria and in Outer Mongolia. All these theories are detrimental to the sovereign rights of China and should be given up.

Such a wrong claim has a bearing on the present state of war in China. If Japan claims that, through her railway, mining and other rights in South Manchuria she, in a political sense, is prior to China, very naturally she will argue that for the sake of protecting those rights she has the other right of interfering in China's political affairs and especially in the war if it extends into Manchuria. If China alone has a special position in Manchuria, she must undertake that all foreign interests be protected by herself, and Japan, in turn, will abstain from all interference. If Japan cannot help the Central Government, she should at least refrain from helping either side but remain thoroughly neutral.

BOBBIE AND HIS PA

BY WM. F. KIRK

Pa was looking at his shot gun last nite, it was all over rust & dust, & Pa was going to cleen it.

Why doant you let Bobbie cleen that shot gun & you taik me to see Lilian Fish in The Haunted Henhouse? sed Ma.

Wife, sed Pa, long years ago I lerned if you want anything done rite in this wurld you must do it yurself sed Pa.

That may be trew about big things, sed Ma, but littel jobs like cleening a shot gun or sweeping a floor can be done by almost anybody, sed Ma, Let Bobbie cleen that shot gun.

I cuddent do it ½ so good like what Pa is cleening it, I sed kind of quick.

Bobbie is vary modist, isent he, sed Pa.

Bobbie is vary foxy, sed Ma. He wants to get out of sum work.

I aint afrade of work, Ma, I sed, but I cant't cleen no shot gun, that is a man's job.

Rite you are, Bobbie sed Pa, but I will be through with this unpleasant task vary soon, sed Pa, & then we will all go to the movie theeter, sed Pa.

If we cannot go to the theeter this minn-it we will stay at hoam, sed Ma.

All rite, all rite, sed Pa, we will go. & Pa throwed the shot gun in the corner & went to put on his overcote.

Poor daddy, sed Ma, him is peaved, isent hims? sed Ma.

Cut out that baby talk if you are talking to me, sed Pa.

See here, sed Ma, kind of quick, see here, what was that you jest seed?

I sed I doant like to have nobody talk baby talk to me, sed Pa. Cum on, now, if you want to go & see The Haunted Henhouse

It seams so strainge that we have to have a Seen every time I want a little Reck-rashun, sed Ma.

What it is, Reck-rashun? I sed.

It meens Ree-lacks-ashun, sed Ma. Let us be going.

So we all went to see the picter & the first Seen in the picter was a old farmer setting on his back poarch cleening a shot gun.

That is what I shud of been doing this evening, if I had been let alone, sed Pa kind of loud.

Be still, sed Ma, the fokes around us think you are a Bandit, sed Ma.

You doant see no daim hovering oaver that old Hick, sed Pa, telling him to cut it out & go to a movie. He looks happy, too, sed Pa. I bet he aint married

Pa was talking so loud that the peepul around him cud heer him, & you bet Ma & me was glad wen the show was oaver. I walked hoam with Ma, she was about haf a block ahed of Pa & she nevver sed a word until she got hoam, but then you bet she sed enuff words.

But Pa jest finnished cleening the shot gun & went to the hay, wich is ware I am going now so I will cloze.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

Once I believed chicanery was not
To be passed over lightly, with a smile;
Somewhere, when I was young, I got the thought
That perjury was devilishly vile;
But such beliefs, it seems, are out of date;
Men occupying stations that are high
Can lie and be regarded still as great,
Where truth gets in it does so on the sly.

If Ananias were alive today
He'd be submerged at once among his kind
He was a glib old liar in his way,
But lacking subtlety, and unrefined.
The solemn-faced official shakes his head
And utters gravely what he knows are lies;
No matter; the impression still is spread
That he is worthy of men's trust, and wise.

The expert witness twists the truth to earn,
Or try to earn, the fee that he is paid;
And after having done his little turn
Is envied for the cunning he displayed.
Assembled diplomats employ their wits
To gain a sly advantage here or there;
With suave conceit they tear the truth to bits,
As long as lies will serve them lying's fair.

The politician stands before the crowd,
And lies without the slightest twinge of shame;
If lies will serve his purpose he is proud,
And no disgrace attaches to his name.
"God hates a liar," I was taught in youth,
And secretly I often wonder why;
Our chosen prophets still may tell the truth
But only when it doesn't pay to lie.

Learn To Drive Slowly, Especially Through Small Towns

To the city man accustomed to driving an automobile in crowded streets there is a temptation to step on the gas while passing through little villages.

This is dangerous and likely to be expensive.

Small town people for years did not take any action to protect themselves.

It is different now.

Nearly every town has certain rules for driving and special officers to see that the laws are enforced.

There is more danger in driving fast through a small place than there is in a larger one, as few men from the city realise.

Children are not as accustomed to fast moving vehicles.

More children play in the streets and there is more "jay walking."

Residents of small towns expect sane driving more than city folks do.

Consequently, they are not on the alert when they cross back and forth and the city drivers would do well to recognise this fact and save themselves a fine or a possible law-suit for damages.

The World A Checker-Board Of Races

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

One of the most singular of the speculations which the attendants at the Toronto meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science were invited to consider, was that offered by Professor J. W. Gregory, of Glasgow University, on the segregation of the various races of man. Professor Gregory seems to be alarmed by the alleged fact that "when different races live side by side, the more primitive race, unless conditions be imposed upon it fatal to its spirit, will outlive the other whenever the struggle for existence is keen."

If this be indeed a fact and not a mere inference drawn from insufficient data, it might be used as an argument against civilisation. But let that pass, and consider Professor Gregory's plan for avoiding the contact of races, supposed to be so fatal to the continued existence of the higher forms.

If fully carried into effect this plan would turn the face of the earth into a racial checker-board. Each of the principal races would have its own allotted region, or square, whereon to dwell and be happy. Each could live undisturbed in accordance with its fundamental peculiarities of body and mind. Naturally each would develop a kind of civilisation suited to itself. The dream of a united mankind, all dwelling together in comity and harmony, under identical laws and customs, would vanish, and the earth would once more be as effectually divided as it was in ante-geographic times.

But not only that; for in some cases at least, different races would be distributed in groups on a single continent. For instance, Professor Gregory expressly suggested that in South Africa, where it is said that the negro population, at present outnumbering the white three to one, is increasing faster than its rival, the territory might be divided so that some parts would be inhabited only by the negroes and others only by the whites. He would give to the whites those parts of Africa "which were practically unoccupied until the European entered them."

But, as he himself says, Africa is the native home of the negroes, "whose numbers are increasing faster than any other population in the world." That being so, then if the whites cannot hold their own in the struggle for existence against a more primitive race how long would it be before the expanding negro population would take possession of the whole African continent, completely driving out the whites?

It would probably prove impossible to confine the different races to their allotted territories. Everywhere the more advanced would always be tempted to subjugate the less advanced, as has been the rule throughout history, and the temptation would be all the stronger with territorial barriers set up between the races. And, even if segregated, their reaction upon on another could not be prevented, unless, indeed, navigation and aviation, and the spirit of barter and of commercial exchange, were abandoned and forgotten.

That Professor Gregory is keenly aware of the influences which would bring his segregated races into conflict is indicated by the curious suggestion which he makes as to the ultimate place of refuge for the members of the white race. For this purpose he offers Australia, which he says, might be kept exclusively for the whites and be completely occupied by them. He is confident that their science could render even the tropical regions of Northern Australia suitable for the habitation of white men. But what an extraordinary picture this presents to the imagination—the great white race, the originator of science, and of the highest civilisation, driven for refuge and cut off in a remote and confined quarter of the globe, where once discarded forms of other animals also found an asylum!

DRESS

By Mary Marshall

The Pinafore Gives Inspiration for a New Fashion Development

To most Americans the pinafore as a usual article of little girls' dress is not so well known as it is across the Atlantic. It is a sort of apron, you know, that covers the front of the frock and fastens—usually ties—at the back. Even little boys in France often wear aprons of this construction—black sateen aprons of the most substantial variety.

Martial et Armande as well as Lanvin have made use of this idea in their recent collections. The sketch shows how Martial et Armande use the idea in a model of black velvet, fastened at the back, worn over a foundation of red chiffon. Three short flounces show at the edge of the skirt and the "pinafore" parts at the back, where it is tied at the top with ties of the red chiffon, showing the red underslip. Red and gold threads are used for the embroidery on the front of the "pinafore."

Lanvin makes use of the idea in tunics or casaques to be worn with ensemble costumes. They are loose straight affairs that button all or part way down the back.

In the Martial et Armande model sketch there is another detail of interest—possibly real importance from the point of view of fashion development. This is the seam across the front between armholes that gives the effect of a yoke. It is many years since yokes have appeared on women's frocks. Yet they have appeared simultaneously now in several quarters. Charlotte seams the material at back and front to give the line of a yoke. Philippe et Gaston makes a back yoke on coats. It has been spoken of as one of the indications of the feeling for the Directoire mode. It at least shows a willingness to break the hitherto straight line of fabric from chin to hem.

Martial et Armande model of near-velvet. Tunic frock made like little girl's apron fastened at back. Skirt of shaded red chiffon. Two scarf ends of chiffon fall from neck where tunic opens at back.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WHEN THERE'S FISH

The cucumber seems to be the natural affinity of fish. There is hardly any sort of fish dish with which cucumbers served with French dressing are not appropriate. White potatoes are also generallly appropriate with fish With a broiled fish, experts tell us to serve creamed potatoes, while with a creamed fish a plain boiled potato is best. With boiled fish, small boiled new potatoes or potato balls with parsley are the correct accompaniment. Spinach and tomatoes are vegetables that likewise go well with fish.

Lemon butter is a good sauce for many sorts of fish. To make it cream take two tablespoons of butter and mix with a tablespoon of lemon juice, pepper, a tablespoon of chopped parsley, and salt if the butter is unsalted. It should be spread over broiled fish before it is served.

Shrimp sauce is sometimes served with plain boiled halibut. It is made by adding cooked, skinned shrimps, broken in small pieces to white sauce.

Often tartare sauce is served with soft-shell crabs, fried oysters, fish fillets, etc. To make it you will need a cup of good mayonnaise. Add to it one tablespoon each of finely chopped parsley, olives and cucumber pickle and one teaspoon of finely chopped chives.

HOME-MADE ICE CREAM

Remember, if you are making home-made ice cream, that you must have plenty of ice to get quick results. Have lots of it, shaved fine, and mixed with salt. If you haven't rock salt, the ordinary kitchen salt will do, though, of course, it is more expensive. Mix the salt thoroughly with the finely shaved ice and pack the mixture in around the cylinder containing the ice cream mixture. The grind slowly until the mixture is thoroughly chilled. Grind faster until it is very stiff. Remove the dasher, pack in extra salt and ice, and let stand an hour or so. If you have a small freezer you can place it in the refrigerator without extra packing if you make it just before dinner. The cream will remain sufficiently hard in this way for an hour's standing.

Sungkiang Plans Ferry To Replace Destroyed Bridges

(China Press Correspondence)

Sungkiang, Ku., Oct. 24.—We have two trains coming from and going to Shanghai daily and our people are fast coming back to us. There is now talk of running a steamer service from the first bridge this side of Shihhutang to the one destroyed on the other side and ferrying passengers across from Shanghai trains to the Hangchow trains, and so getting a through service. It will be in the neighborhood of a year before the bridges can be repaired.

A goodly number of the belated gentry have returned and today they gave our new general, Gen. Hsia of the 4th division and quite a number of his military officers a feast to aid in effecting a better understanding between the military and the people. Gen. Hsia had to go to Hangchow, but sent his military adviser Mr. Yui as his representative. We now have about three regiments of the 4th division stationed with us.

There was quite an outbreak of looting on Tuesday night and it was laid to the soldiers of the 4th division who were going on to Fungching and Kashing. I think that we are through with the worst of the looting. It was really worse than I had at first supposed. Certain base fellows will take advantage of the troubled times to prey on the people in the country and out of the way places, but the worst is over for the present.

Chengtu Notes

(Independent News Service)

Chengtu, Sze., Oct. 15.—Opium smoking and traffic is still prevalent here. In spite of the fact that the local authorities have taken steps to check the evil, opium dens with large numbers of visitors are reported still in existence.

The Double Ten Festival was celebrated in Chengtu with great enthusiasm. A most interesting and impressive lantern procession, which was joined by all students in the city, was held. All the public buildings and business houses were decorated with national colors and streets were illuminated with gorgeous lanterns. General Yang Sen contributed $3.000 to meet expense for decorating up the streets for the occasion.

Several steamers, Chihping, Chiehching, etc., are reported to have been fired at by troops under the command of Brig. Commander Moh at Hokiang. A number of passengers are said to have been killed. Tuli Yang Sen and Civil Governor Teng Shi-hou have sent a telegraphic message to Yuan Tsuming requesting him to make an investigation into the matter and inflict severe punishment on those responsible for the occurrence.

The Hwa Sung Cotton Mill, which is owned by Chinese interests, has been doing remarkably well since its opening. The management is said to be considering plans for the extension of the establishment and for the further improvement on its working systems.

Mr. Wan Wen-tsuin, Mr. Chang Peh-liang and Mr. Chang Yeh-yuin, have graduated from the Hangchow Tehnical College, and are returning to Chungkiang where they are planning to start a large dyeing and weaving establishment.

The Szechuen Road Association has sent a lengthy telegram to the Peking Government advocating use of the refunded Boxer Indemnities to the building of roads in China. The telegram states that what China needs most today is a system of good roads which will serve to develop industry and commerce and will be the best means to secure national unification. Facilities of transportation and communication in China are miserable and only by building more and better roads can conditions be improved. The association asks the government to consider the question of the disposal of the funds before making any definite decision.
